

Senior Accountant, Cross-Border Tax

Date Posted: October 13, 2026

More than a job. A career built on expertise, relationships, and growth.

At Hutcheson & Co., we've been helping businesses, families, trusts, and individuals navigate complex accounting and tax matters for nearly 40 years. From local entrepreneurs to clients with Canadian and U.S. tax obligations, we deliver practical advice through a team of experienced and dedicated professionals.

We're looking for a Senior Accountant to join a firm that values professional development, flexibility, collaboration, and exceptional client service.

Why Join Hutcheson & Co.?

You'll gain exposure to a diverse range of accounting and tax engagements, including:

- Corporate and personal taxation
- Financial statement engagements
- Trust and estate compliance
- Tax planning
- Cross-border Canadian and U.S. tax matters
- Owner-managed businesses, corporate groups, and family enterprises

This is an opportunity to work on interesting and challenging files, develop specialized expertise in cross-border taxation, and continue growing your technical and professional skills alongside experienced colleagues.

We invest in our people through mentorship, professional development, technical training, and opportunities for increasing responsibility. We also support flexible scheduling and a collaborative team environment where people genuinely enjoy working together.

The Opportunity

As a Senior Accountant, you'll work directly with clients, managers, and partners while contributing to a broad range of accounting, tax, and advisory engagements.

Key Responsibilities

- Prepare Canadian and U.S. personal tax returns
- Prepare corporate tax returns, financial statements, and year end engagements
- Assist with tax planning and advisory projects
- Support Canadian and U.S. cross-border tax engagements
- Manage client relationships and engagement deadlines
- Mentor and support junior team members

What You'll Bring

- CPA designation or soon to be designated
- Public practice experience
- Strong accounting and tax knowledge
- Excellent communication and relationship-building skills
- Commitment to quality client service
- A collaborative approach and desire to continue learning

Why Professionals Choose Hutcheson & Co.

Because they want more than a job.

They want meaningful work, interesting clients, opportunities to grow, flexibility when they need it, and a team that values both professional excellence and personal success.
